on the voter's identification. After verifying the voter's identification, the voter is asked if the voter's residence address on the precinct list of registered voters is current and whether the voter has changed residence within the county. In an ideal voter situation, the voter's address will be current and the voter will not have changed residence within the county. Some voters may not have their addresses on the list of registered voters due to their participation in an address confidentiality program. Nevertheless, election judges should continue to ask whether or not the voter has moved from the address at which the voter current and whether the voter has changed residence within the county.

Have the voter sign the signature roster (or combination form). If the voter cannot sign his or her name, an election officer shall enter the voter's name with a notation of the reason for the voter's inability to sign the roster (or combination form).

Legibly enter the name of the voter on the poll list (or combination form).

- The voter is required to sign his or her voter registration certificate in the appropriate place upon receipt.
- If a combination form is not used, the names on the poll list must be entered in the same order as the names on the signature roster.

Return the acceptable form of identification presented by the voter and the voter's voter registration certificate, if presented, to the voter.

Have the voter pick up a ballot, if applicable, or issue the voter an activation code, etc. for the accessible voting equipment and direct the voter to the voting area.

In this chapter you will learn the 7 basic steps to qualify a voter.

Voter With ID Notation on List of Registered Voters

The voter presents an acceptable form of identification or has a notation of an " (E)" after the VUID number on their voter registration certificate) but the voter's name does not match the voter's name on the list of registered voters.

LIST OF FIRST TIME VOI

voting. The voter must submit an affidavit, which is part of the combination form, stating that the voter is the person on the list of registered voters.

The four ways a voter's name on the photo ID is considered substantially similar to the list of registered voters and vice-versa are: the name on the photo ID is Slightly Different from one or more of the name fields on the list of registered voters or vice-versa; the name on the photo ID or on the list of registered voters is a Customary Variation of the formal name, such as Bill for William or Beto for Alberto; the voter's name on the photo ID contains an Initial, a Middle Name or a Former Name that is not on the list of registered voters or vice-versa; or a first, middle, former or initial of the voter's name that occupies a Different Field on the photo ID than on the list of registered voters

If the election worker makes the determination that the voter's name on the photo ID and the list of registered voters are substantially similar, the voter shall be accepted for voting and proceed as follows:

- Stamp "voted" on the List of Registered Voters.
- 2. Have the voter sign the Signature Roster (or Combination Form)
- 3. Enter the voter's name on the Poll List.
- 4. Have the voter initial the "Similar Name Affidavit" box located on the combination form.
- 5. Direct the voter to pick up a ballot and proceed to the voting area or direct the voter to an available DRE, as appropriate.

If the reviewing election worker makes a determination that the voter's names on the presented identi fication form and the official list of registered voters are not substantially similar, the voter shall be offered a provisional ballot.
